Sustainability topics

Why is an ageing society significant for L'Oréal and its consumers? How do we approach biodiversity challenges? What is our position on scientific breakthroughs such as adult stem cell research?

These and other key sustainability topics have been identified through active engagement and consultation with our stakeholders. Each topic has been analysed, both in terms of stakeholder concern and relevance to the company, and mapped on the grid below. Click on a topic to download a factsheet summarising L'Oréal's approach to these challenges.
